Jeff Nord, a member of the University of Montana golf team, has earned recognition as UM's top scholar-athlete.

Each year the Big Sky Conference recognizes the outstanding academic achievements of a member of each school's athletic teams.

The Missoula junior's 3.97 GPA is the highest recorded by the student-athletes given the award by the eight Big Sky schools. The 1973 winner of the Ed Chinske Award as the University's most outstanding golfer, he has played three years of varsity golf.

Winners at other schools and their sports are: Dave Ober, Boise State football player; Allan Young, Montana State football player; Mark Champagne, Northern Arizona basketball player; Richard Sliney, Northern Arizona trackman; Lindell Turner, Idaho State golfer; John Lollis, Gonzaga baseball player; Steve Sprague, Weber State football player, and Tom Hull, Idaho baseball player.
